Subject:

Quick question about WhatsApp and quote follow-up

Body:

Hi [Name],

I'm building an AI operating platform for distributors and wholesalers that run a lot of sales over WhatsApp and email.

The first workflow we are focused on is inbound inquiry -> quote/proforma draft -> follow-up -> deal progression -> collections follow-through.

I'm looking for 3-5 design partners who feel this pain strongly and want direct input into the product.

If this is relevant, I'd love to show you a short demo and learn how your team handles this workflow today.

Best,

[Your Name]

Discovery Questions

- how many inquiries come through WhatsApp versus email
- how long does quote turnaround usually take
- where do follow-ups get lost
- who owns the handoff between sales and finance
- what current tools are in the stack
- what would make this worth paying for even if they keep their current CRM

Best Validation Sentence

The strongest response you can get is:

We would use this for this workflow even if we keep our current CRM.
